OUTLINES.

The second day of the greatest reunion ever held by the Confederate Veterans was marred at Richmond yesterday by rain and uncomfortably cold weather, yet it did not interfere with the ardor of 12,000 to 15,000 old veterans; they gave a tumultuous reception to Mrs. Hayes, only living daughter of President Davis, heard a speech from Col. Robert E. Lee, Jr., grandson of their great chieftain, had a speech from Senator Daniel, and last night attended a reception at the Confederate Museum, the former home of President Davis, where many were brought to tears over memories of the past and at the sight of war relics.——At Lansing, Mich., yesterday, President Roosevelt delivered three addresses and held a reception; in a speech to the Michigan Legislature he declared that the railroad problem must be met unflinchingly; one of the features of the day was his presentation of diplomas to a class of young lady graduates.——A dispatch from Richmond announces the death there on yesterday of Robert Ambler Bruce, 10 years old.——Dun & Co.'s weekly Trade Review mentions the unseasonable weather as a drawback to commercial activity, but states that the cotton and other manufacturing plants are producing at full capacity with orders far into the future, while the output of pig iron is beyond all precedent.——Tremendous rainfall in Texas and Louisiana has swollen the rivers; great damage has been done to crops and property, and many lives have been lost; because of the flood new cotton advanced 50 points on October futures in New York yesterday.—Hon. William J. Bryan was joined at Norfolk yesterday by Mrs. Bryan; they received much attention and from Norfolk will go to William and Mary College; tonight Mr. Bryan will speak in Norfolk and on Sunday will be speak in Richmond and on Monday attend the unveiling of the Jefferson Davis monument.——New York markets: Money on call, steady, 2 to 2 3-4 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 1-2; closing bid, 1 1-2; offered at 2; spot cotton, 40 points higher, closing steady at 12.90; flour, firm and higher, but quiet; wheat, firm; No. 2 red, 1.01 5-8 elevator; corn, firm; No. 2, 67 elevator; oats, firmer; mixed, 50 to 50 1-2; turpentine, easy, 62 1-2 to 63; rosin, steady.

Even Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, is rooting for Roosevelt. He wants the President re-elected .

Democrats should have a powerful feeling for Senator-Chairman F. M. Simmons for the enemies he has made in the Republican camp .

Newspapers continue to mention George B. Cortelyou's boomlet for President. George ought to lie low for fear of being alluded to as Roosevelt's catspaw in the 1904 campaign.

A New York woman who lost her voice twenty years ago has suddenly regained her power of speech. Of course, she will talk now just to hear herself talk.

Says the Greensboro Tar Heel (Rep.): "Joseph Gurney Cannon is the noblest Roman of them all." That starts Uncle Joe's Presidential boom in North Carolina. Secretary Taft will please take notice .

A Washington dispatch stated that President Roosevelt declared that he enjoyed his horseback ride to Mount Vernon on Monday when he got caught in the rain and was bespattered all over with red mud. The members of the Ananias Club will please refrain from laughing.

The Durham Herald has been counting time during the Butler-Adams will. The Herald's piquant paragraphist says: "Mr. Adams flunked and that seems to be all there is to it." Does look like, according to the rule of the ring, Adams has laid on the floor too long.

The Duplin Journal, recently removed from Faison to Warsaw, says: "A weekly newspaper should always stand for that which gives material strength and moral tone to its people and this shall continue the policy of The Duplin Journal." A paper conducted on that line is the best asset that any community can have.

The Clarkton Express remarks: "Pretty little Indian girls, with lots of money, in Indian Territory are wanting good white men for husbands. We've a good notion to go out there." As those Minnehahas are said to be worth from $50,000 to $100,000 in rich land ,there is no wonder Editor Johnston would just as leave as not be a squaw man.

A Washington dispatch recently stated that President Roosevelt is overworked and needs the rest which he is to take at Oyster bay in a couple of weeks. The President takes a great deal of unnecessary work on himself in the way of impossible tasks. For instance he has gotten it into his head that he can nail all the lies that are afloat.

SOUTH AND WESTERN

More Than Three Thousand Men Employed on Seaboard Connecting Link.

CONSTRUCTION IS COSTLY

Through Mountain Passes and Long Tunnels—Vast Shipments of Coal Handled Through Wilmington. Great Thing for Port.

Inasmuch as Wilmington is destined to be the port of delivery for the immense traffic in coal that is expected to develop with the completion of the South and Western Railroad from the rich fields of Virginia and Tennessee, the following from Thursday afternoon's Raleigh Evening Times will be read with interest here:

"Mr. Lewis Walke, general freight agent of the South & Western, a railroad that is to play a prominent part in the development of this state, is spending the day in the city. He came to Raleigh to consult with the corporation commission in regard to certain matters connected with the South & Western road.

"The railroad being built from the coal fields in southwest Virginia to western North Carolina is one of the most costly ever built in the south, and it is to be doubted if a more costly road has ever been built in the United States. Although it runs through an extremely rugged country, the grades are reduced to a minimum, and coming south—the direction in which the heavy traffic will be handled—the maximum grade is five tenths of one per cent. In the immediate vicinity of Marion there are twelve tunnels.

"Between Marion and Altapass, a distance of 33 miles, more than three thousand men are empolyed in construction work. This is the roughest section of the road, and it will require about a year to complete it. The road strikes the Southern at Marion, and the Seaboard at Bostic, a station three miles east of Rutherfordton, a better grade having been secured by taking this route. It is the expectation to have the line between Marion and Bostic, a distance of 29 miles, completed almost if not equally as soon as the line to Marion, for, while work is in progress on the tunnels, the line will be in course of construction east of Marion. Nothing definite has been decided in regard to building the road south of Bostic in the direction of Spartanburg. It is a well known fact that the same parties interested in the South & Western are also back of the Seaboard, and there seems to be no doubt that the vast shipments of coal from southwest Virginia will be handled through Wilmington.

"The road is already completed and in operation from Altapass to Johnson City, Tenn., a distance of 68 miles. From Johnson City the road is to be continued through southwest Virginia and on to Elkhorn, Ky., about 150 miles. The line is now under construction from Johnson City going west.

"The South & Western will be the means of bringing coal direct from the mines into this State, and will be of inestimable benefit from an industrial standpoint."

TO STOP FIVE MINUTES.

Atlantic Coast Line Will Honor Memory of Jefferson Davis.

Complying with the request of General Stephen D. Lee, commanding the United Confederate Veterans now in annual reunion at Richmond, Va., General Manager W. N. Royall, of the Atlantic Coast Line ,yesterday issued orders to all division superintendents of the system from Richmond to Tampa, Fla., to cease all train and shop operations for five minutes at 2 o'clock on Monday, the same being the anniversary of the birthday of President Jefferson Davis, of the Southern Confederacy, and at that hour a very handsome monument being unveiled to his memory at the capital of the Confederacy. All Southern roads were requested to take similar action, but so far as is known the Coast Line was the first to make the official order. The Seaboard Thursday signified its willingness to do so if the other roads would do likewise. It is understood now that all of them will do likewise.

The act is a very gracious one on the pat of the Atlantic Coast Line, and shows contrary to the popular charge in some quarters that all railraod men are bereft of sentiment. While it is seemingly a small matter of five minutes, when it is considered that nearly ten thousand men are affected and that five minutes on the part of each means something like three months' employment at eight hours per day for one man, the order is not so inconsiderable after all, this, of course, not taking into account the delay of traffic and rush work in the shops that cannot be measured in dollars and cents. At the hour named wherever they are, all trains will come to a stop over all the system and the busy hum of the shops all along the line will be hushed during that period.

"FAREWELL STAG PARTY."

Mr. Jake L. Solomon Entertained at Pleasant Affair.

Mr. Jake L. Solomon, one of Wilmington's most popular and prominent young business men, who will next week join the ranks of the benedicts by claiming a fair bride in Kentucky, gave quite a pleasant farewell stag party at Harmony Circle Club rooms last evening, the guests having been quite a number of the "bachelor" friends of Mr. Solomon. A great number of toasts were responded to apropos the early departure of Mr. Solomon on his pleasant mission. Among the guests for the evening were Messrs. I. W. Solomon, E. I. Bear, Isadore Bear, Julius P. Taylor, George Honnet, A. G. Danenbaum, H. C. Bear, Marcus Sternberger, of Manila, P. I., Marx S. Nathan, Louis Goodman, Joe N. Jacobi, Siegfried Goodman and the host.

POLICE COURT ITEMS

Only Three Cases Before the Mayor at Noon Yesterday.

In the police court yesterday Henry Baldwin, a small colored boy was charged with two offenses, riding bicycle without a bell, and carrying concealed weapons. In the first case he was required to pay the costs, and in the second was dismissed on account of his being so small.

The only other case was that of mary Clay, colored, charged with being drunk and down. She was sent to the county farm for 30 days.

IN THE MEIER CASE

Very Rapid Progress Made Yesterday in New Hanover Superior Court.

PLAINTIFF TAKES A REST

Evidence in Noted Damage Suit is being Taken Rapidly—Two Witnesses Thus Far for Defendant Company—Notes.

Very good progress was made yesterday in the Superior Court in the trial of the big damage suit of Frank Meier, administrator, against the Consolidated Railways, Light and Power Company, in which $25,000 punitive and $25,000 actual damages are asked for the killing of plaintiff's intestate, his brother, Joe Meier. on the suburban line of the defendant company on the night of August 29th, 1903. The jury had been empanelled with comparative ease the afternoon before and the testimony was immediately begun at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The testimony is being taken in shorthand by Miss Shrier, and this has greatly facilitated matters. There is a possibility that the case may be concluded this evening, but it is most likely the trial will last until the first of the coming week. The attorneys are Messrs. McClammy and John D. Bellamy & Son, for the plaintiff Meier, and Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy and Davis & Davis, for the defendant company.

The plaintiff began its testimony yesterday with the plaintiff himself, Frank Meier. Mr. Meier was going by Yopp's undertaking establishment Sunday morning and seeing a crowd he went in and was shocked to find that his brother had been killed the night before and his body had not been identified up to that time. He described the condition of the body, and said he last saw his brother the Monday morning before the accident; deceased was between 26 and 29 years old and was a carpenter by trade; had worked at the railroad, on the Seashore Hotel and on the Richter building just before his death; he earned from $60 to $75 per month; was married and had one child, who died about a year before the father was killed.

M. E. Keathley knew the deceased for 15 years; he worked at the A. C. L. first four or five years, a second time about 18 mouths, and the last time about two years; his pay averaged $3 to $4 per day. While he was not a finished workman, he was a good ordinary carpenter.

Melvin Horne, who had been summoned by both sides, was first introduced for the plaintiff; he was motorman and conductor on the car which ran over Meier; it was the trip from the beach about 12:30 A. M. Just before witness got to crossing he saw something he thought was a piece of paper on the tracks; later he was horrified to find that it was a man; he stopped after the car had passed over the man and went back with passengers to see what had been done. The light then provided on the car was in good condition, but there was a cloud and he could not see very well until he was the distance of one trolley pole to another from him. The car was not equipped with air or emergency brake, only a hand brake being at hand; this he thought was in good condition. It was brought out from the witness on cross-examination that even if the car had been equipped with air brakes the accident might have occurred. The car had no fender. The body was lying with the head toward Wilmington inside of rails; right leg over rail, left arm same way, flat of back. In witness' opinion had the car been equipped with fender the body would have been torn all to pieces.

Dr. J. Arthur Dosher, of Southport, who with Dr. Manley, of Fort Caswell, was a passenger on the car, was the next witness. He was seated two or three seats from the front returning from Wrightsville Beach and heard the motorman cry out that he had run over a man. He with others went back and examined the body, finding it warm and mutilated in about the condition described in the complaint; his brain was scattered about in between the ties. The body was perfectly normal, and death in his opinion was caused by some heavy object striking him on the head and that he had been dead but a few minutes when the witness saw him.

Policeman H. W. Howell went to the scene on Monday following the accident with Mr .Frank Meier. They found particles of bloody substance between the rails. There seemed to be very little blood.

Mr. H. G. Fennell saw Joe Meier when he got on the car at Front and Princess streets about 8 o'clock; he had no hat and his coat was on his arm; Meier took a rear seat and seemed to be in a stupor. He was put off the car just beyond Delgado on the way down to the beach. This the witness thought was about 8:15 or 8:20, and about 2 1-2 miles from where the accident occurred.

Mr. Frank Meier was recalled as to some points brought out by Mr. Howell.

The plaintiff rested and the defendant put on J. A. Riggs, who at the time was conductor of the car from which Meier was ejected. The witness said that the car left Front and Princess at 9 o'clock, and that the deceased was put off because he would not pay his fare and was disorderly. The conductor said after the car had gone on to the beach and was returning about an hour later he passed Meier walking toward the sound by the side of the track near Commissary Bay, about 2 1-2 miles from where he was killed. He had travelled considerable distance since he had been ejected from the car.

Policeman M. P. Newton, motorman on the car from which Meier was ejected at that time, testified in corroboration of Riggs, and said after Meier was put off, he asked and was given his coat, which had been left on a seat when he was taken off.

Of course each of the witnesses was put through a vigorous cross-examination and a number of points were brought out upon which argument to the jury will be based when the trial is concluded. The defendant company will introduce further testimony today, then the plaintiff will offer evidence in rebuttal and the case with the charge of His Honor and argument by counsel will go to the twelve men empanelled to pass upon the issues.

The only other proceeding in court yesterday was the continuance of the suit of the Cape Fear Machine Works against the Angola Lumber Company.

BRAVED THE ELEMENTS

Thirteen Men at Traps of Wilmington Gun Club Yesterday Afternoon—Four for Peters' Trophy Shot Their Finals.

In spite of the threatening weather an "unlucky thirteen" men faced the traps of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon. Rain fell intermittently and lowering clouds in the west made the best scores impossible, the background having been dark and the men at the traps being unable to see the flying birds. In the regular shoot, however, Stokley did some good work, breaking 48—50 and making a total of 68 out of 75. He had a straight run of 45 out of a second fifty.

In the contest for the Peters' trophy Messrs. G. W. Penny, Ed Boushee, Dr. J. H. Dreher and Dr. R. H. Bellamy have finished their 250 targets with Mr. Penny leading 173—250. When other members of the Club have completed the round the handsome cup offered by the cartridge company will be awarded.

No meeting of the Club was held on the grounds yesterday afternoon to consider the matter of holding a State tournament here in July as on account of the inclemency of the weather only a few of the members were out. The scores yesterday were as follows, the first two columns being the totals to date in the Peters' contest, viz:

BARACAS ENTERTAINED

Philathea Class Guests of Delightful Affair Thursday Evening.

The Baracas of the First Baptist Church delightfully entertained the Philathea Class of the same congregation Thursday evening. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers and the environment was all that could be desired for the most pleasant occasion that it was. The address of welcome was by Mr. P. P. Perrin and this was especially pleasing. Following Mr. Perrin's cordial words of welcome, Mr. Greene Fenley rendered a beautiful solo to good effect. Mr. Herbert E. Merritt, president of the class, spoke at length of the history and nature of Baraca work and paid a fine tribute to Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, who introduced the Baraca work among the young people of Wilmington. Mr. Merritt's address was inspiring and pleasing.

A vocal duet by Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Muse with accompaniment by Miss Elizabeth D. Burtt greatly delighted the audience as did also a violin solo by Mrs. Edwards with accompaniment by Miss Burtt. Miss Hattie Sue Hale was also heard to splendid advantage in a brief piano recital. Mrs. C. Oscar Byerly was delightfully amusing in a realistic portrayal of Josiah Allen's wife on the subject of "Flirting." She was given greatest applause.

Following the formal part of the exercises a spread of dainty refreshments was enjoyed, the young people voting the social a success in every way.

Mr. Farley to Wed.

Friends of Mr. J. A. Farley, of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, in this city, will be interested and pleased at the announcement of his approaching marriage which will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. High, in Whiteville, June 12th. The bride, Miss Nellie High is one of the most atractive young women of that town and is much loved and admired by many acquaintances.

ON BENCH WARRANT

Manager of Postal Telegraph Company Cited to Appear Before Judge Long.

GIVES $500 JUSTIFIED BOND

Charged With Obstructing Process of the Court—Deputy Serving Subpoena on Witness Telegraph Operator in Postal's Employ.

Mr. J. T. North, manager of the Postal Telegraph Company in this city, upon a bench warrant issued yesterday afternoon, is cited to apepar this morning at 9:30 o'clock before His Honor, Judge B .F. Long, holding Superior Court in New Hanover, to show cause why he should no tbe attached for contempt. The alleged contempt grows out of what is charged as obstructing the process of the court by interfering with Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cox when the officer had gone to the office of the Postal yesterday morning to serve a subpoena upon Mr. John E. Wood ,the former manager of the company in this city, but now an operator in the employ of the Postal. Deputy Cox alleges that Mr. North met him at the counter, told him that he knew the law as to summoning telegraph operators from their work, and intimated that he would not have Mr. Wood subpoenaed. The officer says that he protested at Mr. North's interference with the process of the court and threatened to arrest him, but that he was not allowed to summons Mr. Wood unmolested. Mr. Wood sat at his telegraph key a short distance away, but Deputy Cox said that the argument which his appearance with the paper brought out, prevented his reading the subpoena to the man wanted, which was in an ordinary civil suit that has been pending some time, and entitled Shearin against Winders, involving some property at Castle Haynes.

Mr. Cox returned to the Court House and reported the facts as he conceived them to be to Judge Long, who at once ordered an affidavit from the deputy sheriff and had this sworn to before Mr. W. N. Harriss, deputy Clerk of the Superior Court. Upon this affidavit, a bench warrant was issued for Mr. North, and very soon thereafter he came into court with his counsel, Hon. John D. Bellamy, and had a brief conversation with the judge at his desk in the court room. The defendant was ordered to give $500 justified bond for his appearance this morning at 9:30 o'clock, when all the testimony in the premises will be heard. Mr. North gave the bond in the sum named with Herbert McClammy, Esq., who was sitting in the court room at the time, and was asked by Mr. Bellamy to give the amount as surety. Mr. Bellamy thinks that his client will have no difficulty in purging himself of any contempt in the matter.

The affidavit upon which the warrant was issued sets forth that the affiant, Mr. Cox, is a deputy sheriff and that he was acting as such during the sitting of the present term of court; that a subpoena issued out of this court to be served on one John E. Wood as a witness in the case of W. H. Shearin and others against J. W. Winders and that in obedience to the writ the affiant went to the office of the Postal Telegraph Company and found the said witness; that whilst engaged in his lawful duty in executing the process of the court on said witness, one J. T. North, who was then and there present, unlawfully interfered with and hindered, delayed and obstructed affiant in the execution of said process; that the affiant is informed that the witness whom he was attempting to subpoena was wanted as such witness in a suit on trial at this present term; that as affiant was thus molested and interfered with in regard to his duties directed to be performed by this court, he deemed it his duty to report the facts to the court as its officer, that the court might do as it deemed proper in the premises. Upon this affidavit Judge Long issued a process to the sheriff requiring him to bring Mr. North into court and show cause why he should not be attached for contempt of court, answering the charge as the law directs. The affair created much interest among the court attendants during the day, and there was considerable talk of the matter on the streets during the afternoon.

Mr. North, in an interview last night, stated that nothing was further from his purpose than to obstruct any process of the court; that his remarks on the occasion referred to were directed entirely to Mr. Wood, who, as a matter of fact, was served with the summons and responded at once. He says that his remarks as to the rights under the law of telegraph operators was in respect to their exemption from jury duty and that Mr. Cox made no threats of reporting him to the court. He regrets the occurrence very much and is satisfied that when all the facts are brought out in the hearing before Judge Long this morning that he will be purged of all contempt, for nothing was further from his intentions.

NEW NORTH CAROLINA BOOK.

It is gratifying to note that North Carolina is producing authors, and it is every now and then that we hear of some new writer or new book that comes to the front. Some of our authors, producers of both prose and poetry, are attracting wide attention, and if we mistake not there is one forthcoming new North Carolina book that will win a notable degree of attention. It is by Professor Jerome Dowd, of Charlotte, and while we have not had access to the manuscript as has the Charlotte Observer, we accept that esteemed contemporary's estimate of it as sufficient to indicate its merit and assure its acceptance as a work of an extraordinary character. The Observer says of it:

"Mr. Jerome Dowd, of this city, has concluded an agreement with the MacMillan Company for the publication of his first volume of a series of books in the nature of a sociological study of mankind from the standpoint of race. The series of books are to include three volumes on the negro races and other volumes dealing with the Mongolians, Indians, Semites and Aryans. The first volume treats of the Pygmies of the forest regions of Africa, the Bushmen of the Kalahara Desert, the Hottentots of Cape Colony and the Nigritians of the Sudan. The Nigritians include the types of negroes that were brought to America, and Mr. Dowd's aim has been to explain the influences of climate, race mixture, etc., upon the economic, familial, political, aesthetic, religious and psychological life of the negroes in their native surroundings .A study of this kind is intended to bring out general principles which can be applied to the solution of many practical modern problems relating to industrial, oplitical and family life, and to art, religion, education and moral and intellectual culture. Incidentally the study is designed to furnish help to statesmen in formulating wise legislation wherever the negro and the white man live together under the same government.

"Mr. Dowd has been engaged upon this work several years, and the few persons who have examined parts of the manuscript know that he has produced something not only novel, but of interest and value. He is an able man, a most painstaking student, with a special faculty for research, and a writer of an attractive style. Those who know anything of the elaborate work which he has undertaken—which is upon wholly original lines—will wait impatiently for the complete volumes and will be surprised if they do not meet a prompt and cordial reception."

The subject Professor Dowd has selected to exploit is certainly one of deep interest. No doubt it will be more interesting than a romance.

WILMINGTON PROGRESSIVE.

Editor Hines, of the Kenansville Eastern Carolina News, has a kind word to say of Wilmington in this week's issue of his excellent paper. He has been looking our city over, and speaks in this way about it:

"There is hardly three towns in North Carolina now making the general progress that the city of Wilmington is showing. Real estate has gone skyward and only in a few sections of the town can property be bought at all. One and two story buildings are being carried "higher up" and more room had to be made in this way. Property in the country for miles around, situated on the good roads of New Hanover, sells like property in the corporate limits. The wholesale merchants there are now supplying the trade that once went to the North. This is right, and Eastern Carolina merchants should stand by Wilmington and keep their money at home. The wholesale trade of Wilmington is said to be five times greater that it was even ten years ago. The city is making the greatest industrial progress in her history, and it is highly gratifying to the true Eastern section of our good old State to see this spirit of progress, as it exists on such a safe and wise financial basis, in our compress city by the sea."

Wilmington business men and people generally will appreciate what the Eastern Carolina News says. All visitors to Wilmington are struck with the evidences of progress here ,and the growth of our city is demonstrated, not alone in the particulars referred to, but in all lines of business and industry. That Wilmington is a good place to locate ,it can be stated that every industry and business started here succeeds to a degree that is remarkable and even astonishing to those who are watching the city grow.

GOLD IN CATAWBA RIVER.

Mind what we told you. The Star has predicted from time to time that the gold resources of North Carolina would attract greater attention sooner or later, and we added that the results would some day astonish the natives. It was only a few days ago that we spoke in that vein, and now comes the news that the bottom of the Catawba river between Charlotte and Gastonia is being successfully dredged for gold. A special from Gastonia under date of May 30th, says:

"That there are treasures in the deep no one doubts, but the fact that the Catawba river is being dredged by a corporation of the State of New Jersey for gold makes us feel that the treasures are nearer home. The firm of Brown & Nobles, which is incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey, have their river and harbor boat 'Klondike,' on the Catawba river, plying between Sloan's Ferry and Rock Island, a distance of three miles, dredging for gold. The 'Klondike' is fitted with a steam dredge, which gouges out great quantities of sand from the bottom of the river, and deposits it in a sluice boat where the ore is separated from the sand and then shipped for refinement.

"Several years ago the river was dredged by another company, whose boat, the 'Old Klondike,' was washed away by the freshet of five years ago. Since that time until about two weeks ago gold operations on the river were at a standstill. The new 'Klondike' is 30x80 feet, and has a 100-horse-power boiler for its motive power. The sluice boat is eight feet long and is what is known as a self-dumper. The ore, it is said, is worth $20 per ton, and the present experiment promises a good paying investment. Wood is now being used as fuel in the boats, but as soon as the new macadam road is finished coal will be substituted."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—So long as the relations of Japan and the United States are friendly, if not cordial, the remarkable military activity of the new Asiatic power will be a matter of mild interest, only, to the average American. At the same time, every layman cannot view with absolute indifference the transfer of dominion over the Pacific Ocean from the United States to Japan.—Washington Post.

The story printed by the Chicago Record-Herald, to the effect that between 50,000 and 100,000 men are to be discharged by the railroads of the country before June 1, in order to reduce running expenses, does not read very well in view of the number of railroad accidents that are reported from day to day, the lateness of trains all over the country and the congestion of traffic at important centers.—Savannah News.

—A Wisconsin judge expresses the opinion that the rural free delivery of mail is running farmers crazy. He says that since the letters and literature of the farmers are delivered free at their doors they do not go to town so often, wherefore they have fewer social meetings and have become more isolated and lonesome on the farms than ever before. The judge is probably one of those persons who think that a day spent sitting on a goods box whittling sticks and swapping inconsequential yarns is a day devoted to social enjoyment and the improvement of the mind.—Savannah News.

—In the midst of all its perturbations and tribulations the city of San Francisco is entering upon an experimet in muicipal owership. The city has taken over the Geary Street Cable Railway and it will transform it so as to use the electrical conduit system of propulsion. The preliminary investment is $750,000 and what it will cost afterwards nobody knows. But it is satisfactory to know that Schmitz and Ruef, and the other grafters who were ready "to eat the paint off a house," have not made the city so poor that it cannot raise a little more money with which to buy playthings for its politicians.—Hartford Times.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Wilmington Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, week or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so 1 tis with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Wilmington people testify to permanent cures.

R. A. Biddle, clerk at 19 Market street, residing at 606 Castle street, Wilmington, N. C., says "I used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for kidney trouble and my wife who suffered from backache also used them. I never knew anything to act so quickly. I have suffered for quite a long time with my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were very dark and full of sediment. My wife also complained of her back, and when we read of Doan's Kidney Pills in our newspapers I went to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box. We used them with best of results. In my case the kidney secretions cleared up and the pains left my back. We have neither of us complained since taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and it is with pleasure that I recommend them at every opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

YOUNG MEN CAN WIN THEIR WAY

How Pluck Carried Young North Carolinian Through College—Students at A. & M. College Earned Over $7,000 Past Year.

(Raleigh News and Observer, May 30th.)

By all odds the most versatile man in North Carolina is President Winston. This was demonstrated more clearly at the graduating exercises of the A. & M. College in his wise counsel and happy congratulations to the students of the graduating class. Particularly appropriate were his remarks when he presented the diploma of graduation to Jacob Tatum Eaton ,of Davie county, and the words he used in holding up this young man to the emulation of ambitious youth. Five years ago Mr. Eaton entered the college with only five dollars. He has made every dollar he has spent, and will leave the college free from debt and with more money than he had when he entered. Mr. Eaton is a handsome young man of character and capacity. While Dr. Winston was telling of what he had done—before he had come forward to receive his diploma—three trustees were scanning the faces of the graduating class to ascertain who was the man of the hour, and two of them guessed the right man, though they had never seen him before. They said he was made of the right stuff and they could see it in his face. The genuine and spontaneous applause that greeted him showed that he was the man of the hour.

Dr. Winston stated that during these five years Mr. Eaton had erned $745 and had expended $734, leaving a balance on hand. This shows how cheap the actual, necessary expenses are at the college. Mr. Eaton dressed well and had every necessity, and was all the better off during his term in college because he had only the money for the necessaries.

The students at the college earned during the past year over $7,000 showing that this is an institution where labor is honored and where young men may help to educate themselves if they have a mind to work. The young men who helped by hard work to educate themselves will be heard from in the future. They are of the stuff that overcomes obstacles in life.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at R. R. Bellamy, Druggist.

SERVIAN WEDDINGS.

The Bride Collects the Gifts, Which Must Be In Money.

If you receive an invitation to a wedding in Little Servia on the west side, you must not buy a present and take it with you or send it. That would be bad form, and the bride would probably feel insulted, but when you went to the wedding you would take with you the price of the present in money.

At the wedding you would find several hundred men and women all making strange motions and talking in a strange, excited manner.

After the guests had assembled—and everybody in the colony would be welcomed—a young woman would pass around the wedding cake. Behind her would come the bride carrying a silver platter, and upon this she would collect the money given as presents. At the majority of weddings the platter is piled high with silver dollars, and around the edges are bills of various denominations, from $5 to $20. It is not uncommon for a bride to receive $1,000 in cash. This amount, it must be remembered, is given by men who are mostly laborers in the packing houses.

Sometimes the groom passes cigars, and every guest will take a cigar and hand him a dollar. Another custom is to place a dollar in the large glass of whisky and every man take a drink, each drink costing a dollar.

These weddings are a great feast for the guest, and there is always plenty to eat, and sometimes the groom rents a hall where all may dance.—Kansas City Star.

THE CURE OF WORRY.

Clear, Simple Common Sense Applied to the Business of Life.

There are two reasons why man should not worry, either one of which must operate in every instance—first, because he cannot prevent the results he fears; second, because he can prevent them. If he is powerless to avert the blow, he needs perfect mental concentration to meet it bravely, to lighten its force, to get what salvage he can from the wreck, to sustain his strength at this time when he must plan a new future. If he can prevent the evil he fears, then he has no need to worry, for he would by so doing be dissipating energy in his very hour of need.

To cure oneself of worry is not an easy task. It is not to be removed in two or three applications of the quack medicine of any cheap philosophy, but it requires only clear, simple common sense applied to the business of life. Man has no right to waste his own energies, to weaken his own powers and influence, for he has inalienable duties to himself, to his family, to society and to the world.—William George Jordan in "The Kingship of Self Control."

THE BODY SHIPPED HOME.

Remains of Young Lloyd Andrews Sent to Seven Springs, N. C.

The body of young Lloyd Andrews, who with his companion, W. C. Lindley, of Powder Springs, Ga., was drowned while marsh hen shooting in Middle Sound seven weeks ago yesterday, was brought up to the city yesterday and shipped last night to Mount Olive, N. C., whence it will be taken to his former home at Seven Springs, near Goldsboro, for interment today. The body was brought up early yesterday afternoon by Mr. M. H. Brimmer, embalmer from Yopp's undertaking rooms in this city, and Mr. T. N. Thomas, by whom Mr. Andrews was employed. The body was found by George Clay, a negro who was digging for clams in the Sound Thursday afternoon, and who will receive the reward offered by Mr. Frank Andrews, an uncle of the deceased in this city. From the location of the spot where the body was found, it is now believed that young Andrews was never swept out to sea in the boat. He was an experienced swimmer and it is believed that when he saw what was coming that he released his hold upon the craft and attempted to swim ashore, while young Lindley, who could not swim, clung to the boat and was carried outside by the strong current. The body had probably been in the Sound all this time, but did not come to the surface until some weeks after the drowning.

Mr. Frank Andrews in behalf of the family desires to return heartfelt thanks to everyone who assisted in any way in the search for the bodies, and for kind acts afterwards, especial thanks being due Mr. Thomas, who has been untiring in his efforts since the fateful tragedy.

A number of beautiful floral tributes were laid on the casket yesterday by Wilmington friends, one especially pretty design, being by Wilmington Lodge of Odd Fellows into which the young man had just been initiated.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HODGES.

Remains Laid to Rest In Beautiful Oakdale.

In the presence of many surviving friends and relatives, the remains of Mrs. M. J. Hodges, who passed away at the home of her daughter Thursday night, were laid to rest yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Oakdale cemetery.

The casket was completely covered with flowers. The funeral was conducted from the residence of Mrs. T. H. Thompson on North Seventh street, by Rev. N. M. Watson, her pastor, aided by Rev. A. W. Seabreaze, of the Episcopal Church. The funeral hymns were sweetly sung by a special quartette. The pall-bearers were: Captain Thomas C. James, Messrs. W. E. Perdew, Anson Alligood, W. C. Craft, K. W. Prince and A. C. Craft.

Joined Her Husband Here.

Mrs. B. McD. Russell and little son arrived yesterday from Lynchburg, Va., and have joined Mr. Russell, who recently returned to the city and has taken the position of pressman of The Morning Star. For the present they are stopping with Mr. Russell's mother, Mrs. B. R. Russell, in Magnolia avenue.

—Southport Herald: "An unsuccessful attempt to right the schooner Minor which has been lying ashore on Battery Island shoals for several months was made on Monday. The steamers Jones, Atlantic and Blanche pulled unsuccessfully on the schoner for some time at high tide but as a result of the pulling the vessel was moved into deeper water and has now turned completely over on her side. It is not known what steps Pendleton Bros., the owners will take to save the vessel at this time."

POSTOFFICE FIGURES FOR MAY.

Over Twelve Per Cent. Increase from 1906—Another Comparison.

Postal receipts at the Wimington postoffice for the month ended last night were $8,086.48, as compared with $7,212.65 during May last year. This is an increase of 12.1 per cent., or $873.83, showing that the business of the city is going steadily forward. In May, 1905, just two years ago, the receipts were only $4,939.06, showing an increase of 84 per cent. for the same month in two years, but for some reason unexplainable the receipts for the month in 1905 were abnormally low. Twelve per cent. is high enough, and this rate is being steadily maintained, sometimes exceeded, during the entire year.

Opening at Theatorium.

The opening at The Theatorium, on Market street, yesterday afternoon and last evening was a delightful success in spite of the inclement and threatening weather. The pretty place was crowded all during the hours of the opening and all who visited the new theatre were delighted with the interior which is most elegantly fitted up with opera chairs, electric fans and other comforts for patrons that are characteristic in elite vaudeville houses north. Both moving pictures and illustrated songs are presented while for the opening yesterday afternoon excellent music was discoursed by Kneissel's orchestra. The theatorium promises to develop at once into a most pleasant retreat for those who seek wholesome amusement.

Tax Listing Begins Today.

Tax listing for both the city and county begins today by Mr. T. O. Bunting, who has been elected to receive the lists both for New Hanover and Wilmington. An enclosure for this purpose has been built in the centre of the main hallway at the City Hall, on the first floor and while it will be inconvenient to move the books daily, the new location will be very convenient to the public. Heretofore this work was done on the second floor of the building but this is now occupied by the public library and other quarters had to be sought.

Capt W. L. Beery Hurt.

Friends of Captain W. L. Beery, the well known Seaboard Air Line conductor betwen Wilmington and Hamlet, will regret to know that he suffered quite a painful accident at Hamlet a few nights ago while turning a switch to allow his train to go into the yards there. Captain Beery fell forward striking his knee against an iron and fracturing the cap. He will be confined to his home some time as the result of the injury.

To Call a Pastor.

The services at Brooklyn Baptist Church tomorrow at 11 A. M. will be conducted by Mr. Charles Dushan, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and at 8 P. M., by Rev. Fred D. Hale, B. D., pastor of the First Church. After the close of the evening service the church will be called in conference to consider the advisability of calling a pastor to serve the congregation. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

Building a Dog Pound.

In view of the fact that the dog cart will start on its rounds after the 10th of June, an enclosure for all impounded stock has been built under the supervision of Officer H. W. Howell at foot of Chestnut street. Wharf dwellers in a short time will have their ears "smitten" with the whines and howls of innumerable pets until the tax is paid by delinquent owners.

Remains Interred Here.

The remains of the late Mrs. Roberts, who passed away at her home in New Jersey, reached the city over the Seaboard Air Line yesterday afternoon and were laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery. The funeral had been conducted in New Jersey, the exercises here consisting only of the reading of the committal service, which was by Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James'.

Train From North Delayed.

On account of the derailment of a freight car on the yards at Goldsboro, necessitating the sending of a wrecking train from Wilmington, the train from the North due here at 10:10 yesterday morning did not arrive until after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No one was injured in the accident.

THE ENDLESS CHAIN IDEA

was developed in a fertile brain, and its far-reaching results have been wondered at time and again. Like a rolling snow-ball, it gathers size and momentum as it goes along until nothing can stop or arrest its progress. Applied to some business purposes it brought about the fact that many people working toward the same end would accomplish much—that left to individual effort would go undone. To get a good thing and pass it on to some friend, who, in turn would interest others, has supplied many homes with necessities, that but for this endless chain principle would have been compelled to do without.

One Sided Justice.

"Roy Bean, Justice of the Peace—The Law West of the Pecos," was the sign over the shanty where lived the man who for years was the only representative of the law in the great territory west of the Pecos river in Texas. Langtry, named for the Jersey Lily, was his postoffice, and he did business under the honorary title of Chief Justice Bean of the Pecos, making a tidy sum on the side by selling postal cards bearing the picture of his queer justice shop. Years ago, when the Southern Pacific was being built, some cowboys came in on a tear and shot up the town, incidentally killing three Chinese coolies who were working on the railroad. There was a roundup, and the cowboys were brought before Squire Dean. There was much testimony, and the trial was long. At its end he gravely said:

"The testimony shows that these three Chinamen were killed by some of the men on trial. It is pretty clear who did the fatal shooting, but the prosecution has utterly and entirely failed to show where the statutes of the state of Texas make it a crime for a white man to shoot a Chinaman. The prisoners are discharged."—New York Sun.

A Cats' Boarding House.

A woman who had engaged board for two cats at an animal boarding house stopped at the desk on her way out and said: "Oh, by the way, I forgot something. What do you give your cats for Sunday dinner?" "The regular fare," said the proprietor. "I would like you to make an exception in the case of my cats," said the woman. "They have been used to special dishes at home on Sunday, and I am sure they would miss them very much. I am willing to pay extra for the care and expense." "That," grumbled the animal man after acceding to her request, "is one of the peculiar phases of this business. Half the people patronizing a place of this kind insist upon our providing a few choice tidbits for the Sunday dinner of their pets. It is bound to ruin their digestion, but whenever there is a clause in the contract to that effect special Sunday and holiday fare prevails."—Philadelphia Record.

Sunday Theatricals.

Sunday theatricals had a rough time of it at one period of England's history. On Sunday, Sept. 27, 1631, Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" was privately performed in the bishop of Lincoln's house in London. The Puritans had the affair inquired into, and there is a suspicion of humor in the punishment awarded to the performer of Bottom, the weaver—"We do order that Mr. Wilson, as he was a special plotter and contriver of this business and did in such a brutish manner act the same with an ass' head, shall upon Tuesday next from 6 o'clock in the morning till 6 o'clock at night sit in the porter's lodge at my lord bishop's house with his feet in the stocks and attired with an ass' head and a bottle of hay before him and this subscription on his breast:

"Good people, I have played the beast
And brought ill things to pass.
I was a man, but thus have made
Myself a silly ass."

Lincoln's Much Quoted Words.

Perhaps the most famous address ever made by President Lincoln is the one that he delivered at the dedication of the soldiers' monument on the battlefield of Gettysburg, and the words most quoted from it are "the government of the people, by the people and for the people." This phrase was no doubt an unconscious quotation, for the same words were used by Theodore Parker in an address to the Anti-Slavery society May 13, 1854. Nor was the phrase original with Parker. Daniel Webster in 1830 used the words "the people's government, made for the people, made by the people and answerable to the people." And even before Webster Chief Justice Marshall had expressed the same idea in similar phraseology.

Tunneled the Register.

A bookworm or some such creature has left his mark upon a volume of the "British Annual Register" of the year 1810 in a club library of New York. The worm ate its way through seventeen leaves of the volume, and for much of the way its path has outlined something very like the crouching figure of a cat, with one ear erect and a short tail. This figure is repeated upon eight or ten leaves and then gradually becomes less clearly defined until the progress of the worm is marked by a single small hole.

At Dinner.

"Who is the taciturn man opposite, next to Miss Smith?"

"That is Louis the Fourteenth."

"Louis the Fourteenth?"

"Well, you see, his name is Louis, and he is called the Fourteenth because he's only asked to keep us from being thirteen at table."—Kilkenny Blatter.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at R. R. Bellamy's Drug store. 50c.

THE BLACK BEAR.

Her Physic and Her Food After Her Five Months' Sleep.

The black bear has her cubs, from one to three, in her den during the months of March and April, and it is an interesting thing to know that she has the power to give birth to her young at least two weeks before the proper time if driven from her den. She will return to her cubs if let alone. In the den she cares for her young until the snows of the north country have sufficiently melted to permit of her getting about, when she "licks the trail" again. She eats nothing during the five months that she hibernates, except that from time to time she will lap the icicle which is made by the freezing of her breath on her paws. She ventures forth as soon as the snow has sufficiently melted to permit of her getting about and for several days will eat nothing but hemlock bark and certain roots, which act as a physic. When in her normal state of health again she is ravenously hungry and will diligently fish the brooks and streams in search of a dinner of trout, will hunt up the carcasses of deer or moose which have been overcome by the severity of the winter or will prey upon porcupines by quickly putting her paw under the stomach and rolling the porcupine on its back, then with a slap tear out the entrails and escape the quills.—Field and Stream.

ANXIOUS MOMENTS.

The Quarter of an Hour Following the Winning of the Derby.

The anxieties of owners of race horses competing in the Derby do not immediately end as the horses pass the judges. The fatal "objection" may snatch the laurels from the victor. The possibility discovered itself over Caractacus' race. The owner had striven in vain to get a jockey of repute. His offer of a life annuity of £100 a year to Gostley in case of success had been declined. A stable boy named Parsons had eventually to be trusted, and, to the surprise of the learned, he got the horse home, winning by a neck. Going to scale, the lad could not draw the weight. In breathless silence the bridle was sent for, and that just enabled him to balance the scale. But now Lord Stamford appeared to object that only his own horse and two others had gone the full course. The winner and the rest were already past the starting post when the flag fell. Admiral Rous looked at his watch. "Twenty minutes," he said. "An objection to hold good must be lodged within a quarter of an hour." And so the stable boy's win passed into the records, but the owner of Caractacus declared that not for £1,000 a moment would he again endure the agony of that short period following the race.—London Saturday Review.

PILLS AS WEAPONS.

The Curious Duel That Was Arranged by a Doctor.

An extraordinary duel, which at the time created an immense sensation, was one in which the decision was arrived at not by swords or pistols, but by means of a deadly poison. The men—who, it is hardly necessary to say, had fallen out over a lady—had left the arrangement of details to their seconds, and until they faced each other they did not know by what method they were to settle their differences. One of the seconds was a doctor, and he had made up for the occasion four black pellets, all identical in size and shape. "In one of these," he said, "I have placed a sufficient quantity of prussic acid to cause the almost instantaneous death of any one who swallows it. We will decide by the toss of a coin which of you is to have first choice, and you will alternately draw and swallow a pill until the poison shows its effects." Two of the pellets were then taken as the toss had decided, but without effect in either case. "This time," said the doctor, speaking of the two pellets remaining, "you must both swallow the pill at the same instant." The choice was again made, and in a few seconds one of the men lay dead on the grass.—Pall Mall Gazette.

"He Who Keepeth His Tongue."

An old fashioned minister was visiting his son in New York recently and was taken to a fashionable church for the Sunday morning service. The pastor is a young man of great culture, but evidently his oratorical efforts did not greatly impress the visitor, for when they were walking homeward the son remarked approvingly:

"That was a good sermon, an excellent sermon. The congregation like Dr. Blank very much."

"Yes, a good sermon undoubtedly," his father replied. "It could not possibly have touched a sore spot anywhere."—New York Herald.

Nonsense Literature.

I believe it was De Quincey who said, "None but a man of extraordinary talent can write first rate nonsense." He was right. And he might have added that none but a man of extraordinary taste can fully appreciate first rate nonsense.—Japan Times.

Two Failures.

Homely Man—I married for beauty. Sarcastic Man—You remind me of a friend of mine who married for money. Homely Man—How's that? Sarcastic Man—He didn't get it.—Chicago News.

Returned.

"Yes; this tower goes back to William the Conqueror."

"What's the matter? Isn't it satisfactory?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Light of the Stars.

Various attempts have been made to estimate the light of stars. In the northern hemisphere Argelander has registered 324,000 stars down to the nine and one-half magnitude, with the aid of the best photometric data. Agnes M. Clerk's "System of the Stars" gives the sum of the light of these northern stars as equivalent to 1.440 of full moonlight, and the total light of all stars similarly enumerated in both hemispheres to the number of about 900,000 is roughly placed at 1.180 of the lunar brightness. The scattered light of still fainter celestial bodies is difficult to evaluate. By a photographic method Sir William Abney in 1896 rated the total starlight of both hemispheres as 1.100 of full moonlight, and Professor Newcomb in 1901 from visual observations of diffused sky radiance fixed the light power of all stars at just 728 times that of Capella, or 1.80 of the light of the full moon. It is not certain, however, that the sky would be totally dark if all stars were blotted out. Certain processes make the upper atmosphere strongly luminous at times, and one never can be sure that this light is absent.

Dog That Climbed a Tree.

Can a dog climb a tree? A correspondent writes: "While on a walk on snowshoes in New Hampshire we tracked a porcupine to a balsam fir, in which it had taken refuge. My Scottish terrier climbed the tree, pulling herself up from branch to branch to a height of about seven feet, where a space of bare trunk separated her from the porcupine, which had watched her progress with evident alarm. The terrier made several ineffectual attempts to scale the smooth bark and finally jumped down into the snow." And of another curious trait the same writer continues: "This little dog and her mate, now dead, though enthusiastic fire worshipers at home, never sat near the bonfires built at luncheon or tea time on winter walks, but dug holes in the snow at a little distance, in which they curled themselves up after the manner of their primitive ancestors."—Chicago News.

Processes Which Defy Analysis.

I think that the more thoroughly and conscientiously we endeavor to study biological problems the more we are convinced that even those processes which we have already regarded as explicable both by chemical and physical laws are in reality infinitely more complex and at present defy any attempts at a mechanical explanation. Thus we have been satisfied to account for the absorption of food from the alimentary canal by the laws of diffusion and osmosis. But we now know that, as regards osmosis, the wall of the intestine does not behave like a dead membrane. We know that the intestinal wall is covered with epithelium and that every epithelial cell is in itself an organism, a living being with the most complex functions. We know that it takes up food by the active contractions of its protoplasm in the same way as observed in independent naked animal cells.—A. Bunge.

Her Valentine.

A young woman wrote about the year 1750: "The night before St. Valentine's day I got five bay leaves and pinned four of them to the four corners of my pillow and the fifth to the middle. And then if I dreamed of my sweetheart Betty said we would be married before the year was out. But to make more sure I boiled an egg hard and took out the yolk and filled it with salt and when I went to bed ate it, shell and all, without speaking or drinking after it. We also wrote our lovers' names upon bits of paper and rolled them up in clay and put them into water, and the first that rose up was to be our valentine. Mr. Blossom was my man. I lay abed and shut my eyes all the morning till he came to our house, for I would not have seen another man before him for all the world."

Beethoven's Oddities.

Beethoven used the snuffers for a toothpick. It was one of his peculiarities that he never allowed his servant to enter his study. He insisted that this room should remain exactly as he left it, no matter how deeply the dust lay on the precious musical manuscripts. He seldom looked in the glass when he tied his stock. Half the time he forgot to brush his hair. Every morning he carefully counted out seventeen beans from the coffee canister. These served for his breakfast. When he composed, he would pour cold water over his hands, and often people below him would complain of the water that soaked through his floor.

Suggestive.

"Miriam," said her mother, "have you ever given young Mr. Stapleford any reason to believe you cared for him enough to marry him?"

"He seems to think so," answered the daughter, "because I told him the other evening that he was sending me too many costly flowers and ought to begin to save his money."—Chicago Tribune.

They Began Early.

Gummey—Women's habit of going to their husbands for money is as old as the human race. Gargoyle—That can't be, for the human race had no such thing as money for many ages. Gummey—Nevertheless Eve got a "bone" from Adam.

Physical Culture.

Police Surgeon (to would be cop)—How is it, my man, that your right arm is developed out of all proportion to the rest of you? Italian Applicant—Grinda da org', shina da fruit, roosta da peanut.—Puck.

The English billion is 1,000 times greater than the American.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Whiteville Echo: Mr. J. K. Harper is erecting a new store at Clarendon on the west side of the railroad near the depot.

—Whiteville Echo: Mrs. Mollie Harrelson has been appointed postmistress at Clarendon. She took charge of the office about two weeks ago.

—Kanasville Eastern Carolina News: The News is glad to note that Mr. D. C. Fussell, of Rose Hill, and a young man of sterling qualities, has been elected cashier of hte Bank of Tabor, which is a few miles from Chadbourn, N. C.

—Kenansville Eastern Carolina News: Tobacco plants have had splendid seasons thus far and the growers are highly pleased with the prospects in Duplin. The weather was never finer for these plants and tobacco grew off without wilting generally. The cold nights have been damaging to cotton and corn.

—Kenansville Eastern Carolina News: It is reported to us that the "big blues" are not killed as was first thought after the cold spell in early May. "Big blues" are an important crop to Sampson and Duplin county. They are really called "Sampson blues" and the reader will now know to which crop we refer. Such news is indeed glad tidings.

—Eastern Carolina News: The Rose Hill Wagon Factory Company, has bought from the A. C. L. 140 acres of valuable land on the North side of town on which the factory will be erected. At an early date the land will be thoroughly drained by a canal to Island Creek. Town lots will be laid off and dwellings will be erected. Lots will also be sold at reasonable prices.

—Whiteville Echo: Among the students of Oxford Seminary receiving diplomas this year appears the name of Miss Carrie Ward Toon, the very popular and attractive daughter of our good friend, Mr. Archie Toon, of Chadbourn. The class of 1907 at the Oxford Seminary is the largest in the history of that splendid institution, and Miss Toon is to be congratulated on her success. She received the degree of Batchelor of Letters.

—Kanansville Eastern Carolina News: The News learns with pleasure that Mr. Matt J. Allen, son of Judge O. H. Allen, is meeting with success in the law at New Bern. Mr. Allen is associated with Mr. A. D. Ward. He could not have a better chance to rise in this profession for Mr. Ward ranks among the best lawyers of the country. He is a native of Duplin county where he practiced law at Kenansville for a number of years.

—Strawberries are almost over, but the returns from consigned berries continue to be good. Mr. L. C. Mills, of Clarendon, who was here yesterday, says that he got returns Tuesday for some shipped a week ago, and they netted him above $3.60 per crate. The returns from consigned berries the last part of this season have been better than the cash prices paid on the different local markets, though the grower who shipped the early part of the season lost by not selling. Mr. Mills says he thinks shipments from Clarendon will cintinue for more than a week longer.

—Whiteville Echo: Mr. Advil Edmond and a little daughter, who live near Fair Bluff, were severely bitten one day last week by what is supposed to be a rabid cat. Mr. Edmond, who is an invalid was in the house with his little daughter when the cat dashed into the room and sprang upon the child, who was bare-footed, biting and scratching her limbs below the knees. After biting the child, the cat attacked Mr. Edmond who was sitting close by, and was also in his bare-feet, biting and scratching his feet severely. Some time ago Mr. Edmond, had a dog to go mad, and it is thought that the cat was bitten by the dog before he was killed. Dr. A. G. Floyd attended Mr. Edmond and his daughter and gave them the best treatment it was possible for him to give, and it is hoped that no bad effect will follow.

—Eastern Carolina News: The Bank of Rose Hill will son move into the bright new quarters and its new home is the pride of the people of the town. Mr. W. B. Southerland, the Cashier, will issue the best statement ever gotten out by this growing bank to the North Carolina Corporation Commission. We are glad to see this bank succeed. Messrs. Maury Ward and J. J. Blanchard are erecting a large two story building of brick on Railroad street near the depot. There are signs of prosperity on every side of Rose Hill and the business men of town deserve success for the enterprising spirit they are manifesting there. Rose Hill is growing and keeping up with all other coming Duplin county towns. Mr. Jesse Fussell has an up-to-date cotton gin which will prove a great benefit to the community.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 31.——The cotton market was active and excited during today's session with sales estimated at 1,000,000 bales which represented the biggest day's business for months past. Big advances were made in prices and at the best October sold fifty points above the closing of Wednesday a gain of about $2.50 a bale. The close was off from the best but steady at a net advance of 28 to 34 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 15 to 37 points on covering and bull support prompted by the firmness of outside markets over the local holiday and the continued strength of Liverpool this morning. Bad weather was also reported over the belt, rain being more or less general and heavy in some places, and there were numberless private advices from the South claiming disastrous new crop prospects. There was heavy realizing at the initial advance and during the middle of the morning prices eased off about 11 or 14 points from the best, but rallied again later, and sold above 12 cents for all the active new crop months. Private condition and acreage reports of which one placed the average condition at 63.4 per cent., against 84.6 per cent., the official report of the government last year, helped this advance and there were also rumors that very important short interests were covering. October sold at 12.04 and January at 12.21. Toward the close the realizing was very heavy, but there seemed to good support on a scale down. Southern spot markets were strong and generally higher, a maximum gain of 5-8 cents being reported in one market.

Receipts at the ports today were 7,837 bales against 9,774 last week, and 10.870 last year. For the week 50,000 bales against 54,432 last week and 78,908 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,148 bales against 1,828 last year and at Houston 901 bales against 1,264 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady 40 points higher; middling uplands 12.90; middling gulf 13.15; sales 3,700 bales.

Futures closed steady.

GREAT REUNION OF CONFEDERATES

Only Living Daughter of President Davis Tumultously Received By Veterans.

ROBERT E. LEE, JR SPEAKS

Eloquent Talk by Senator Daniel. Loving Cup Presented to Fighting Parson—Interesting Features of the Second Day.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Richmond, Va., May 31.—The second day of the greatest re-union in the history of the United Confederate Veterans has been rainy and uncomfortably cool, but the bad weather doesn't seem to have dampened much the ardor of the gray clad visitors to the former capital of the Confederacy. It has tended to check the influx of people from the surrounding countryside, but excursion trains crowded with sightseers have continued to add to the throng within the city's gates. It is officially estimated that there are between 12,000 and 15,000 visiting veterans in Richmond and between 50,000 and 60,000 sightseers. At Camp Gordon, the tented place of entertainment for the old time warriors, 12,000 meals were served yesterday and last night two blankets were issued for each cot.

At Grand Camp Hall this morning proceedings were opened with music by the city high school choir, which rendered "Dixie" and "Auld Lang Syne." the veterans joining in the choruses with enthusiasm. General Stephen D. Lee presided, and prayer was offered by the Rev. J. W. Findlay, a war time chaplain. The committee on credentials was announced and it was stated that there were 1,259 camps represented in the convention, the total number of votes being 2, 367.

General Lee then announced the presentation to Chaplain General J. William Jones by the convention of a silver loving cup. General Stone, of Missouri, made the presented speech, Miss Edna Pearl Jewell, of Kansas City, Mo., at his request making the actual presentation to the famous "fighting parson." Dr. Jones accepted the gift in feeling and eloquent terms.

General Lee then introduced Senator John W. Daniel, as the "gallant soldier who bears through life a constant reminder of the awful conflict of 1861-65." Senator Daniel was received with tumultuous cheers and spoke in tribute to the valor of the Confederate soldier. "But the courage and gallantry were not all on the side of the Confederacy," he said in the course of his address. "Boys, we are the same race as the Yankee, and the same spirit which made Southern arms glorious, incited the hearts of the northerner. Their valor was shown in a hundred battles and they made a worthy foe."

Of President Davis, Senator Daniel said: "His name is synonymous with that which is great and that which is virtuous. The fame of the President of the Confederacy is young yet, but it is growing so well known and so strong that the children of future generations will look to him as a brilliant example."

On the conclusion of Senator Daniel's speech, General Lee presented, amid a storm of applause, the only living daughter of President Davis, Mrs. Hayes. The lady was accompanied by her two children and these came in for a large share of the rapturous cheering of the old soldiers.

General Lee then introduced General Finch, of Florida, as the oldest general of the Confederate Veterans, and after him Colonel Robert E. Lee, Jr., who was received most cordially and enthusiastically, and who spoke at some length in vindication of the South from the charge of having fostered slavery and forced a dissolution of the union. "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone," he said.

The African slave was brought to this country largely by New England traders, and when the business of these men was made unlawful by Congress, the movement to this end was led by Southerners. From the earliest history of the United States, Southern men have always led in the suppression of slavery and the Northern traders have always opposed them."

Colonel Lee then gave a resume of the events which led up to the war betwen the States, and concluded as follows:

"Don't tell me with mollycoddlish emphasis that the soldier of the Confederacy fought for what he 'believed' was right. If the courage shown where carnage laid the red curtain of death over thousands, if unwavering faithfulness to the cause for which he fought, if the undying resistance to the invaders of homes and hearts means anything, the soldiers of the South fought for what he 'knew' to be right."

On the expression of these sentiments, the grey clad audience stood on chairs and waving hats, flags, scarfs and handkerchiefs, cheered until hoarse.

At the conclusion of Colonel Lee's address the whole body of veterans passed forward to shake hands with the grandson of their commander, the peerless Robert E. Lee, and order was finally obtained only on the promise at the close of the session that Colonel Lee would shake hands with all.

A letter was then read from General W. L. Cabell, of Texas, who on account of illness is unable to be at the re-union, and General Lee stated that the letter was written from what is probably the deathbed of General Cabell, and would probably be the last communication from that officer.

General Lee next announced that the committee which has the matter in charge will announce the next meeting place at noon tomorrow. The indications are that Nashville, Tenn., will be the choice of the majority.

At half past 12 o'clock the convention adjourned for the day, and the whole body of veterans advanced to the speaker's stand, and with much feeling shook the hand of Colonel "Bob" Lee, who had so thrilled them with his spech.

On the adjournment of the convention proper, an enthusiastic rally of the Confederate naval veterans' organization was held. Much business of the importance to the body was transacted and Judge A .O. Wright, of Jacksonville, Fla., was re-elected commander of the organization, which adjourned to meet at the same time and place as the next reunion.

At the Confederate museum, the "White House of the Confederacy," there occurred this afternoon probably the most striking feature of the whole re-union thus far. A reception of Veterans, Sons of Veterans, sponsors and visiting Daughters of the Confederacy by the Richmond Daughters and members of the Richmond Memorial Association, was held and the house was packed and jammed. The old soldiers were shown the wartime relics with which the mansion is filled, and were introduced to Mrs. Hayes, President Davis' daughter, Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart and other prominent Confederate ladies. They were overcome with emotion. They actually were in the home of their wartime chief; with them was the only licing child of that chieftain; before them were hundreds of tangible evidences of the terrific struggle they had made and the trials they had undergone, the very arms their beloved General Lee had borne, the sash he had worn.

The sight was too much for them, the suggestions of the place more than they could well endure. Many of them wept. All were deeply impressed. The scene was by far the most sympathetic of the present great gathering of the Southern veterans. At the grand camp hall, the horse show building, tonight the Southern Cross drill was given by the Southern Cross Corps, of Memphis, Tenn., and this was followed by the grand reunion ball to the veterans, Sons of Veterans, sponsors and maids of honor, which was a brilliant, largely attended and greatly enjoyed event.

Tonight also ,at Lee Camp hall, a notable address was made by Colonel Schoonmaker, of West Virginia, G. A. R., veteran, and one of those who took part in the Hunter rail down the valley of Virginia. He is here by invitation of General Lee, grand commander of the Confederates, and his speech was an eloquent plea for re-united States.

The second day's session of the Sons of Veterans was rather slenderly attended, and was given up chiefly to the hearing of reports from the commanders of the various State divisions. Many of the representatives spoke of enthusiasm in the organization and of encouragement for the future. The matter of a monument to the women of the Confederacy was discussed, but no conclusion was reached.

Distinguished Nebraskan Will Attend Unveiling of Monument to President Jefferson Davis on Monday—Is Leading Strenuous.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., May 31.—William J. Bryan who made the Patrick Henry speech at the Jamestown Exposition yesterday spent a large part of today at the exposition grounds. He was joined in Norfolk tonight by Mrs. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan was to have delivered an address in Portsmouth this afternoon at the baseball park under the auspices of the Independent Fire Company, but a cold, drizzling rain prevented his doing so. An informal reception was held at the residence of Harry P. Hall, at which a large number of Portsmouth people met the Nebraskan.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were guests at a dinner given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. George Tucker at the Tucker residence. He goes tomorrow to Williamsburg to visit William and Mary College.

Mr. Bryan will speak here tomorrow night in armory hall. He and Mrs. Bryan will leave Sunday for Richmond where he speaks Sunday afternoon in connection with the Confederate reunion there. They will on Monday atetnd the unveiling of the Jefferson Davis monument at Richmond and from there will go to Baltimore, then to New York.

Mr. Bryan said today that he expects to see Senator Daniel on Sunday in Richmond where the latter is attending the Confederate re-union.

STRENUOUS DAY FOR ROOSEVELT

The President Delivered Three Speeches at Capital of State of Michigan.

ADDRESSED LEGISLATIURE

He Declared That Railroad Problem Must Be Met Unflinchingly—Presented Diplomas to Class of Young Lady Graduates.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Lansing, Mich., May 31.—After a strenuous six hours in the State capital during which he made three addresses and held a reception at the State capitol, President Roosevelt left at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon for Washington on the Lake Shore Railroad. He will make brief addresses from the platform of his coach at several small places in southern Michigan enroute to Fort Wayne, Ind. No untoward incident happened during the Preisdent's visit and nothing occurred which in any way excited the suspicions of the scores of police officers in the city today.

Following a brief address to about 2,000 boys from the State Industrial School, delivered from the balcony of the State capitol, the President went into Representative Hall to address the members of the Legislature. He spoke there about ten minutes. He said that the railroad problem in this country, must be dealt with with unflinchingly but with sanity and with reason. There must be, he said, steady progress along the lines that have already been laid down. He also mentioned some of his experiences as a member of the New York Legislature.

After the second address, the President an his party entered automobiles and were driven to the residence of President J. L. Leger, of the Agricultural College, where luncheon was served.

At 2 o'clock he made formal speech from a platform erected at the head of the campus. The President was frequently interrupted by applause. He interjected informal remarks and advice, bringing a great round of laughing cheers when he turned toward a dozen young women in the graduating class and said: "I believe that you young ladies will make first class farmers' wives, and I heartily congratulate the farmers of the future on the unexampled prospects before them."

At the conclusion of the address the President presented them their diplomas. Honorary degrees were conferred upon a number of distinguished visitors, including Gifford Pinchot, Secretary Wilson and President Angell.

The Presidential party then returned to the city and shortly afterward left Lansing for Washington.

GREAT FLOODS IN SOUTHWEST.

New Orleans Under Water and Texas Rivers are Booming.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Lake Charles, May 31.—There was no communication with Cameron Parish today, which was reported last night as largely under water from floods caused by rain and tides. It is feared great damage has been done there. About Lake Charles conditions are worse than they were last night, the Calcasu river having risen two feet since noon. All saw mills have been forced to close.

New Orleans, May 31.—Several sections of New Orleans are today under from one to four feet of water, owing to heavy rains. Nearly all rain water has to be pumped out of the city streets, because of the low level of the land. Although big underground ditches have been built and an expensive pumping plant has been established, the rainfall is so unprecedented that the pumps cannot handle it.

Beaumont, Tex., May 31.—The Gulf, Colorado and Sante Fe, Texas, bridge across Pine Island Bayou, eight miles north of Beaumont, washed away last night by high water. Ten inches of rain has fallen since Wednesday night. Railroad tracks in all directions are damaged.

Dallas, Tex., May 31.—Six negroes were drowned near Honey Grove, Tex., last night as a result of the sudden rise of creek. The six were members of a family named Stephens, and included the parents and children. Railroad schedules in North Texas are badly crippled as a result of recent storms.

There's a Reason Why

We have made over 800 satisfied customers—Club members—inside of eighteen months.

There is more care—more skill—and finer materials put into the New Scale $400 Ludden & Bates Club Piano than any other $400 made or sold in the South.

Only a few more to join the Club now forming at 121 Princess street, and thereby save freights and drayage.

Be in time—do not delay.

LISTEN!

The firm of Ludden & Bates have sold pianos for many years right here in Wilmington—we are not strangers to the music lovers of this sections. There are hundreds of pianos that have been used by People. You Know, and besides the lasting satisfaction of the instruments themselves, our customers appreciate the fact that we have always maintained the best of relations personally, which is something to be desired at all times. The names of such pianos as the stand first for quality, and a quality that is uniformly good in every one of these instruments. The present management of Ludden & Bates has put the high standard of the business to a point never before attained, and for the year 1906 our sales amounted to more than 3,300 pianoes and organs—a record not equalled by any firm in the entire South. There is a reason why, and it could be explained best by saying that our constant effort is to give more for the same money, thus making opportunities for economical piano buying, without the cheapening of the instruments, but on the other hand—as our business increases—giving our customers the benefits of modern business methods of the one price system.
